According to a recent Gallup report, busy Americans have more demands on their time and these products were developed to meet their personalized nutrition needs and help them deal with everyday life while trying to maintain a healthy lifestyle.

"As Americans are becoming busier and more strapped for time, staying healthy is often not their highest priority and these products can possibly be the key to a healthier immune system," said Ibi Montesino, senior vice president and managing director, Herbalife Nutrition for the North America Region.
